

European Veterinary Specialist in Veterinary Sports
Medicine and Rehabilitation, DECVSMR, DACVSMR, FTA, CCRP

Barbara Bockstahler studied veterinary medicine in Vienna, where she initially worked freelance in the small animal practice after completing her studies (1996 - 2002). Since 1999 she has been head of the Service for Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the University of Veterinary Medicine Vienna. Barbara Bockstahler has been a specialist veterinarian for physiotherapy and rehabilitation (Austria) since 2004 and a Certified Canine Rehabilitation Practitioner of the University of Tennessee since 2007. Her research interest is dedicated to the biomechanics of dogs and she habilitated on this topic in 2009. In 2016 she became a Diplomate of the American College for Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation. She was a founding member and first president of the European College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation. Since April 2025 she is Vice-Rector for Teaching, Teaching Innovation and Clinical Matters at the University of Veterinary Medicine Vienna.

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/barbara-bockstahler-7b871b36/?originalSubdomain=at>