

David Levine, PT, PhD, DPT

Dr. David Levine is a professor and the Walter M. Cline Chair of Excellence in Physical Therapy at the University of Tennessee in Chattanooga, and an adjunct professor at the University of Tennessee's College of Veterinary Medicine. He has been working and conducting research in animal physical rehabilitation since 1993. Dr. Levine is the co-editor of multiple books, including Canine Rehabilitation and Physical Therapy, Essential Facts of Physiotherapy in Dogs and Cats, and Gait Analysis: An Introduction. He has presented at over 100 conferences and has lectured in more than a dozen countries. His research on canine rehabilitation has yielded over 60 peer reviewed articles that have contributed to current knowledge in the field. He also participates in equine rehabilitation with 10 plus published studies in this area. Clinically he works at a multi-specialty veterinary clinic in Chattanooga TN, with a team of four people in rehabilitation that see patients in all specialty areas. Dr Levine is passionate about this field and has made it a priority in his professional life to promote and elevate the field.

Further details:

<https://www.utvetrehab.com/instructor/david-levine>